RMA PROCEDURE

The process for Warranty Parts Exchange Service requires that the Claim and RMA Form available on Compuprint web site in the RMA link is sent by E-Mail to COMPUPRINT at these addresses:

support@compuprint.com

sales@compuprint.com

Claims taken over the phone will not be scheduled, confirmed or acknowledge until receipt of the physical Claim and RMA Form.

A Returned Materials Authorization (RMA) number is to be obtained from COMPUPRINT when it is agreed that a product can be returned, e.g.; when it is agreed that a part of the product under warranty is faulty.

Once it is agreed that a part can be returned, the RMA number will be issued and any part returned must be in a reasonable condition, to qualify it forexchange.

The return material needs to be correctly packed, the defect must be clearly stated and the RMA return number provided by COMPUPRINT, needs to be clearly indicated on the physical shipment and the corresponding paper work.

When returning goods, we recommend that they are sent by Registered Post, Recorded Delivery, or via a courier to guarantee receipt by COMPUPRINT

Please sent the Claim and RMA Form to COMPUPRINT Customer Service

All material returned as part of the RMA procedure, has to be shipped to the below address:

COMPUPRINT will not pay any shipping charges for the Products returned. All returns can be consolidated and be shipped back to the above address once per month maximum 4 weeks after the issuing of the return RMA number.

If Compuprint does not receive the parts warranty exchange in a reasonable time (ie: 2 months), Compuprint will urge the same with email written to the Customer.

After another month Compuprint can unilaterally block the sending of new warranty exchange parts until receipt.
